

THREATEN LIVES OF AMERICANS

Many Citizens of Lower California in Danger of Attack

GOVERNMENT WILL ACT

Mexican President is Given To Understand That Protection Must be Given.

Washington, July 20.—Again the Mexican situation becomes delicate, perhaps acute, perhaps even dangerous.

The lives and belongings of American residents in Lower California are in danger from attack by Mexicans. Citizens of the United States have been threatened and have appealed to the state department for aid.

Ambassador Wilson has been instructed to confer with President de la Barra immediately. The president of the Mexican republic is given to understand that adequate protection must be granted to Americans.

The state department's attention was drawn to the situation in a telegram from the American consul at Ensenada, who reported that Americans had been molested and had appealed to him for assistance. Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City was immediately instructed to take up the matter with President de la Barra.

The renewal of a delicate situation in Lower California has increased the anxiety of the administration over recent developments in Mexico. Conditions in that part of the country were threatening several months ago, but with the termination of the Madero revolution Mexico was given permission to send troops across the American territory to quell the independent movement there.

The armed and so-called Socialist rebellion, however, died out before the soldiers reached the scene. Since then it had been supposed that peace and contentment had settled upon that quarter of Mexico, and that the lives and property of the American citizens were secure.

WEALTHY REAL ESTATE OWNER DIES IN PRISON

Springfield, July 20.—Charles R. Fisher, wealthy real estate owner of this city, died at the Xenia workhouse at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from hemorrhage of the brain. His death was sudden, he having been ill only an hour.

Fisher served a sentence last week of one year on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a young girl of this city. He was also fined $1000.

Charlotte, Mich., July 20.—William Lonsberry, a farmer near here, today confessed to the murder of his wife over six years ago, following the confession of his aged mother that she had known of the crime. The man was arrested a week ago, but denied his guilt until confronted with the fact that the decomposed body of the woman had been found buried on his farm.

Montague, will inherit a quarter of a million dollars if he marries and has a family by the time he is 50 years old, has received more than a hundred proposals of marriage from young women who say they offer good reputations and character, but no money, to the proposed union.

ATTORNEY CLAIMS COLLECTION OF TAX WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW CONSTITUTIONAL VIOLATION

Regarding the suit filed in the Supreme court Wednesday by Newark saloonkeepers to test the right of the state, mention of which was made in the Advocate, Wayne B. Wheeler, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league had this to say:

"Every question involved in these cases has been passed upon time after time by the United States Supreme court. A notable decision was rendered in the Michigan case, in which the supreme court held the United States liquor tax could be collected in dry territory. In that decision the court held that because one branch of government, in that case the state of Michigan, had failed to enforce the law it could not be set up that another branch of government could not enforce another law by the collection of a tax."

"The Ohio supreme court also passed on the questions in these cases two years or more before these cases were brought to it."

Roderick Jones, of the firm of Jones & Jones, attorneys for the saloonists, Thursday morning made the statement that "as usual Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler is talking about something he doesn't know anything about. We are not contending that the tax is incollectible because Licking is a dry county, but we are contending that it is not collectible because taxing officials undertook to collect it without taxpayers' notice of their action and an opportunity to be heard. Therefore, to collect it is to take their property without due process of law and against the fourteenth amendment of the constitution."

GOV. MARSHALL ANSWERS QUESTIONS PROPOUNDED BY WM. JENNINGS BRYAN

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—Gov. Marshall, now an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, today answered the list of questions recently propounded by William Jennings Bryan through the Commoner. He asserted that he is opposed to the Aldrich currency system, favors tariff for revenue only and does not believe that the election of protection should be given consideration in revising the tariff. The governor said that he did not favor the recent decision of the supreme court in the Standard Oil case and that he approved the plan for direct election of senators. He also stated that he was opposed to the repeal of the criminal clause in the Sherman anti-trust law.

FAST FLYER

STRUCK AUTO KILLING FOUR WOMEN AND INJURING CHAUFFEUR.

Curve in Track Hid Machine From View of the Engineers—Bodies Hurled in Air.

Granville, N. Y., July 20.—A special train on the Delaware & Hudson railroad struck an automobile at a crossing three miles north of here last evening, killing the four women passengers, injuring the chauffeur probably fatally and demolishing the automobile.

The dead are Mrs. Elizabeth Grant, Saratoga, Mrs. George W. Yates, Saratoga, Mrs. F. M. Robinson, Boston, Charles A. Ostrander, Saratoga, sustained broken legs and shoulder.

The crossing where the accident occurred is a steep hill. The chauffeur thought he could go up the hill and over the crossing at high speed, but found that he could not, and while changing to a low speed, lost the spark, the automobile stopping on the crossing.

A curve hid the crossing from the view of the engineer and the train came around the bend at high speed hitting the machine squarely in the middle.

The party saw the engine, but only had time to throw up their hands. The victims were thrown in all directions, one of the ladies being hurled at least 60 feet in the air. The automobile was demolished, parts of it being scattered along the track for a quarter of a mile.

SERIOUS CHARGE IS FILED AGAINST LABOR LEADERS

Des Moines, July 20.—Charges of assault with intent to commit murder were filed against F. J. Murphy of Indianapolis, national organizer of the Structural Iron Workers, and four other union labor men in police court yesterday, as the result of Monday night's riot on a viaduct in which Joseph Schleiger, a nonunion worker, was seriously injured. This makes two cases pending against Murphy, the other being a charge of inciting the riot.

PENNSYLVANIA FOR WILSON.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 20.—The two Democratic committees met here and all attempts at harmony failing, held separate sessions. Both, however, passed resolutions indorsing Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey as the party's candidate for president next year.

SPEED BOAT AT PUT-IN-BAY FIRED BY UNKNOWN VANDAL

Put-in-Bay, July 20.—John J. Ryan's speed boat, Reliance III, was badly damaged by fire of an incendiary origin some time last night. The boat was fired as she lay at anchor in the bay and was cut adrift, endangering many of the valuable boats that anchored there. The Reliance was to have made an attempt to break the American speed record this month and it is thought the boat was fired through jealousy. A quantity of inflammable material was found in the boat. Visiting yachtsmen were highly indignant over the affair and there was even talk of lynching the guilty person if he could be discovered.

COUNTRY IS FACING PROBLEM

Gigantic Arson Trust Said to Cover Four States

MANY CITIES INVADIED

And Fire Loss Has Been Enormous ---Head of Gang in Kansas City.

Chicago, Ill., July 20.—Revelations by State Fire Marshal C. J. Doyle of a gigantic, country-wide fire bug conspiracy, the greatest the world has ever seen and rivaling in the network of its plot the most elaborate of the Arabian Nights tales—astounded members of the Chicago Association of Commerce at its weekly luncheon. With its head in Kansas City, one arm in Chicago and its tentacles of destruction defying the law in more than a dozen large cities of the country, the speaker declared, the State Fire Marshals of at least four different states have combined to wipe out the closely-banded gang of 15 criminals who are directing its operations.

The speaker's words had a peculiar timeliness, coming as they did so soon after the recent disclosures of a gang of incendiaries in Chicago.

"The incendiary is facing one of the most gigantic, organized arson conspiracies that the world has ever seen," declared the speaker. "I am here to tell you that the state fire marshal's department of Illinois has united the state fire marshals of four other states—Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia—to wipe out the band of 15 men at its head. The plot that exists and extends all over the country is the most malicious and criminal venture that has ever been revealed. In its ramifications it rivals the most thrilling of fiction tales."

"One arm of the monster conspiracy that has continued to ravage on its fiery trail extends into your own city. The head of the conspiracy is in Kansas City, from which city the operations of the whole gang are directed."

"Tentacles of the fiendish octopus have extended until the daring of those behind the plot has grown into a dozen cities. They have been found at work in Bloomington, Pittsburg, Springfield, Cleveland, New York, Buffalo, St. Louis and other big cities."

"Two men of the gang have been convicted and are now in jail in a Southern city. The other 13 will be behind the bars if the state fire marshals of the four states are as successful in working along a line on which they have now begun investigations."

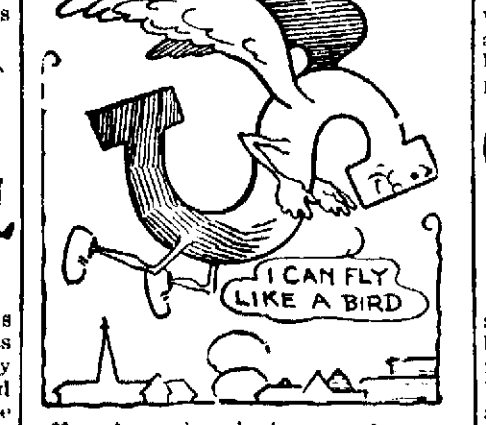

"If we are as successful in securing convictions as seems probable at this time," he added, "and the men behind the conspiracy are jailed, every state in the union will benefit from the appropriations made by the fire marshal departments."

"The firebug problem is the greatest that confronts this country. Even without the cases of arson the country's losses are appalling. The yearly clang of the firebell in the United States signals, according to statistics, a loss of millions of dollars. While I am speaking here the loss is more than $20,000. It is $500 every minute. We cannot afford to tolerate the additional losses due to incendiarism."

"Compared with the much smaller amounts in European cities, this country's fire losses are astounding. While Chicago suffers a loss of $500,000,000 the city of Berlin loses only $200,000. We need to follow out the fire protection plans of that city."

ARSON CONSPIRACY IS BEING INVESTIGATED.

Frankfort, Ky., July 20.—Kentucky the home of the night rider, is involved in a widespread arson conspiracy, and Insurance Commissioner Bell of this city, and State Fire Marshal Niekirk, of Louisville, are making an investigation that may unravel the mystery.

Niekirk has been in Chicago for several weeks and with the aid of a detective force has secured valuable information. The conspirators had planned to burn property in Kentucky.

This much of the conspiracy Insurance Commissioner Bell knows, but he will give out no facts at this time. He has not received full report from Niekirk, who has recently returned to Kentucky from Chicago, but it is certain that the governments of four states bordering on Illinois will use every means to run down the conspirators and bring them to justice.

MILLIONS OF WATER IN TRUST

Investigation of Sugar Company Continued by Probers

THE REFINERY RECORDS

Will be Examined and Mysterious Cryptogram in Minutes Must be Explained.

New York, July 20.—Although the minutes of the meetings of the board of directors of the American Sugar Refining Company show that Washington B. Thomas, the present chairman of the board, was elected a member of a special committee with H. O. Havemeyer and Mr. Sentz, to acquire beet sugar properties, Mr. Thomas declared to the special congressional committee investigating the so-called "Sugar Trust" that he knew nothing about it until he read of it in the government report at Washington a few days ago.

"Didn't Mr. Havemeyer notify you that you were a member of the committee to purchase the independent beet sugar interests throughout the country?" Chairman Hardwick asked him.

"Not that I remember." "As a member of such committee did you ever participate in the purchase of such interests?"

"I don't think so."

"But the records show that you, as a member of the committee, joined in these $15,000,000 purchases of independents."

"I have no recollection of it. Mr. Havemeyer always attended to these matters alone and never consulted any one."

In reply to Representative Madison, Mr. Thomas went into the formation of the original trust.

"The refineries composing the first company were capitalized at $6,500,000 and were given $50,000,000 of sugar trust stock for their properties. Do they not?"

"I believe so."

"That's a whole lot of moisture, was it not?"

"I guess so."

"Do you not know that much of the stock is now water?"

Mr. Thomas admitted that this might be true.

In the reforms you inaugurated after Mr. Havemeyer's death and you reduce salaries?"

"I did in my case."

"What are you getting?"

"$2,000 a year."

"What was Mr. Havemeyer getting?"

"$100,000."

"Was not John E. Parsons, as counsel, paid $100,000 for bringing in the Philadelphia refineries?"

"Yes, but we have cut out such matters now."

Mr. Thomas added that Vice President Atkins, though taking an active interest in the affairs of the company, receives no salary. He explained this by saying that Mr. Atkins likes to work.

Mr. Thomas told of his financial interest in the American Sugar Refining Company. His stock, he said, amounted to about 3000 shares, with a book value of about $275,000, and the holdings of the members of his family, including his own, are between 15,000 and 20,000 shares, with a valuation of between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000. Mr. Havemeyer, when he died, had only about 135 shares of stock, but for many years had thoroughly dominated the company, the witness said.

Mr. Thomas said the $90,000,000 stock of the company was represented by real property, with a book value of $132 for every $100 share of stock.

Chairman Hardwick said he would not accept the company's book value as correct.

"Anybody can figure book value," he said, "what I want is actual value by unprejudiced experts," and it was intimated that the committee would endeavor to arrive at such a valuation.

RUPTURE
Mortimer H. Brown, the noted expert, who is recognized by the large truss manufacturers as the foremost truss designer and fitter visits Newark.
Mr. Brown will demonstrate to those interested the latest advancement in the making and fitting of trusses, and will show which has no leg straps, elastic bands or steel springs, and is especially designed for ruptures low down, and hard to hold with ordinary trusses. The pressure is less than one-half of any other truss and it holds securely the most difficult ruptures with an up and back pressure thus closing the upper or inside opening where the rupture first starts to come out. The pad fits in the hollow above the pubic bone and there is no pressure in the back. The WUNDERTRUSS moves with the body and adapts itself to all positions without moving the pad from its location above the bone. It is a scientific marvel and acts on a new principle. Light, cool, made of bronze and cannot rust or get out of shape. Comfortable, relaxing and often closes the opening in a few days, and the longer you wear it the WUNDERTRUSS the less pressure it takes to hold your rupture. If you think there is no truss you can wear with comfort or hold your rupture, then see a demonstration and have your doubts removed. This demonstration is made for advertising purposes for which there is no charge. Call on Mr. Brown at 22 Quincey St., Chicago, or 41 W. 6th St., New York.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 20.—It was just an ordinary exhibition of baseball in which Grand Rapids won from Newark the final in the series here by a score of 4 to 2. A little rally in the visitors' ranks at any stage of the proceedings would have saved the game. At no time, however, did the former South Bend aggregation seem to be in danger, holding an easy lead from the time its first two points were scored in the second frame.

In the sixth, Newark failed to improve an excellent chance of adding a few tallies, two of them being cut off at the plate. In that inning, two safe hits followed by an error put three of the visitors in the running and a healthy drive would have saved the game. The Grand Rapids defense at that point proved invincible, two of the runners were forced at the plate and three died before the needed drive could be gathered off Essick's delivery, leaving Newark with but a single tally in that frame.

The phenomenal batting of the first game of the series was entirely lacking. Aside from a three base hit by Koehler, there was nothing sensational. Essick pitched the entire game for Grand Rapids and his work was all that could be required of a pitcher. Goldrich for Newark, was steady and stuck to the mound throughout, but his slants were located a little more consistently.

The Newark team has left for Zanesville to meet another of the best teams of the league. Newark is putting up good ball with the top notchers and are expecting to make a better showing against the Potters Score:

TY COBB ILL
AT DETROIT

Detroit, July 20.—Detroit's winning streak seems likely to be broken by the illness of Ty Cobb. That Cobb is a very prominent factor in the winning of ball games by Detroit is conceded. He has been ill since the beginning of the series with the Athletics, having gone so far as to faint in the clubhouse after that phenomenal sprint from first base to the plate which won the third game from Mack's men. Against the orders of the club physician he has insisted on playing as long as the Eastern teams keep coming. His trouble is a bronchial one, attended by a hacking cough, for which he has found no remedy.

CHARGE THAT JOHNSON WILL
"LAY DOWN"

London, July 20.—That Jack Johnson is planning to lay down to Bombardier Wells and permit him to win the world's heavyweight title in their coming fight was charged in sporting circles today. It is openly charged by men "in the know" that the preliminary negotiations between Johnson and Wells representatives have taken on many suspicious aspects.

Johnson, sporting circles hear, is willing to lay down to the Englishman because he is sore on the way he has been treated by the American sporting men. He also realizes that he is getting along in years and wants to clean up as much money as possible in a lump.

Incidentally the promoters of the fight expect to take in a million dollars at the gate by holding the fight in a giant stadium which will seat 200,000 people.

The fight is to be pulled off by a syndicate supposedly headed by Jas. White of Manchester, a well known promoter.

The identity of the members of the syndicate has been carefully guarded, but it was learned today that the real backers are Terrah Hooley, world famous promoter, who is now in bankruptcy because of the failure of some of his biggest schemes, and H. Bottomley, editor of the well known weekly JOHN BULL.

Bottomley is also in financial difficulty as the result of libel verdicts against him amounting to $475,000. Hooley and Bottomley hope to recoup their falling fortunes from the Wells-Johnson fight.

They are alleged to have offered Johnson not only all of the purse for the fight, but also a large percentage of the moving picture revenues which are expected to prove a gold mine should the Englishman win.

Although copies of an alleged contract between the men have been published, showing that Johnson is to get $20,000 and Wells $10,000, it is now alleged that both men are tied up with private contracts.

Ever since he arrived here and jumped into social prominence Johnson and his white wife, have lost no opportunity to attack America and Americans. Johnson has openly declared that he wanted, if he had to be beaten, to be conquered by an Englishman. He has asserted that he wanted to live here after he comes back from the Australian tour he is planning for next spring.

Wells' share under the reported agreement is to be a speculation in futures. It is pointed out that he will have a good chance in any event as Johnson's theatrical season runs almost up to the moment they are to enter the ring. Johnson is fifty pounds overweight and his easy manners of life and indulgence have softened him greatly since his arrival on this side.

According to the general gossip in sporting circles, if Wells wins the title, he will risk it only against English and Australian dukes and make a fortune while refusing to meet American challengers.

DIRECTOR SCOTT
CLAIMS ARREST
IS PERSECUTION

Denies That He Ever Attempted to Impersonate Deputy United States Marshal.

The story carried in the Advocate Wednesday evening concerning the arrest of Safety Director Scott on a United States warrant, charging him with impersonating an officer in Delaware, O., created quite a flurry among his many friends in Newark, who were loth to take any stock in the story.

As was stated in the Advocate Wednesday evening, Mr. Scott was out of the city Wednesday and therefore could not be seen. An Advocate reporter called at his office at the Howell Provision plant Thursday morning and found Mr. Scott at his desk and asked him for an explanation. In brief, Mr. Scott said:

"Some time ago a man in Delaware by the name of Moore bought a quantity of fertilizer from the Howell Provision Company on a consignment contract; the company had sent its agent, Mr. Palmer, over to Delaware to settle with Mr. Moore, but found the goods had been disposed of and that Mr. Moore could not account for either the goods or money. A few days after Mr. Palmer and I called on Mr. Moore, but he had nothing to say, as everything he had was tied up in the courts. The attorney for the Howell Provision Company advised me to make a settlement with Moore, if possible. I offered to settle the account for $50. Mr. Palmer and I then went to see Mrs. Moore and she thought they would settle, but after Moore had talked with his attorney he refused to settle, as Moore had already testified before the bankruptcy court that he did not have a cent and that no one owed him anything. I informed him that I would have him arrested unless the matter was settled by Monday. Nothing was said by anybody about my being a United States officer, nor was it even intimated until Monday, when some one called me over the phone and said that unless the Moore matter was dropped they would have me arrested for posing as a United States officer and that they had a warrant for me. I informed the party over the phone that I had never thought about being a United States officer or even intimated any such thing; that the claim was a company claim and that I intended to push it."

Mr. Scott positively denies that he impersonated any officer of the law, and says that the only reason that

Mr. Moore has for making this claim is that he saw Mr. Scott wearing an officer's badge. Mr. Scott says that anyone can see this badge any time, as he has a perfect right to wear it. Mr. Scott is one of the best young business men of Newark and as safety director has taken a great deal of interest in everything that would tend to the betterment of Newark.

Heart and Home Talks

Vacation Chats.

A Vacation on Horseback.

FOR those who love riding, a vacation on horseback is alluring. Such a vacation is being taken this summer by a school teacher of the State of Washington. She is journeying from Washington to Arizona, her route lying principally through California. That she will have a glorious and a health-giving holiday, every outdoor lover will agree.

Her trip, of course, is unusual, and she is only able to take it because her family are moving to Arizona, and her mother and brothers are accompanying her in a camp-wagon. But shorter trips could be planned by lovers of riding, or if a little party were gathered, any length trip could be taken.

At first glance, such vacations often seem impracticable. And the one who longs for them gives up with a sigh as being beyond her ability to compass. But if she would take each obstacle, or what seems an obstacle, by itself, and consider it in detail, she would find that one after another could be removed, until in the end, her way would be cleared. The seeming difficulties to such a trip pile up until they seem insurmountable; but when they are taken one by one and examined, they fall to pieces in the hand.

The first difficulty to be met is usually tradition or convention. "No woman ever did such a thing," will be the horrified exclamation of relatives and friends. How this shall be met depends upon the individual. If she is going to let it cow her, of course that is the end of the whole affair. But plenty of things were never done until somebody did them; and as a horseback vacation is not a crime, just because few women have taken it, is no reason why it should not be taken if a woman wants such an outing.

Another obstacle is the wardrobe. But this is by no means insurmountable. A knapsack with toilet articles and necessary changes can be strapped back of the saddle. A light rubber cape, such as mounted policemen wear, will protect from rain. And one does not expect to appear at social affairs while on such a trip. If the route is carefully planned, a suitcase can be sent ahead, and overtaken once or twice a week if desired.

One should know one's horse, of course, and something about saddling and bridling him, in case anything goes wrong with the equipment. But after these matters are attended to, what else remains? The trip can be planned so as to reach country hotels for the night; for camping would hardly be feasible, unless the trip were planned on this basis. But a trip stopping at country hotels over night could be taken by two women, or by a woman alone, if she could find no friend who would enjoy such a vacation.

And if one is a lover of riding and of outdoors, few more enjoyable holidays could be undertaken.

Patriotism

The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can't withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

A GRACEFUL HOUSE DRESS OF BORDERED PONGEE

Deep blue pongee with a border in rich shades of blue, orange, pink and black was used to make this smart little frock for at home wear. The arrangement of tucks in bodice drapery and sleeve is especially graceful, one side of the bodice being formed of the border material which is caught at the waistline under an oval buckle of orange silk strapped with black soutache. The tunic, with its sloping border trimming, hangs over a slightly gathered flounce.

Mint Ice. Strip from the stems sufficient mint leaves to fill one cup, packed measure. Pound them to a pulp, add the juice of two lemons and let stand for half an hour. Boil together for five minutes one pint of water and one pound of granulated sugar, pour it over the mint, and let stand until cold. Strain, color it a delicate green, add two table-spoonfuls of cream do menthe and freeze.

DISH WASHING MADE EASY.
This is a factor in home life which is most important, as dishes frequently permit of the accumulation of dirt and grease which are health destroyers if not properly removed.

The snow white suds of Hewitt's Easy Task soap enters every crevice and is a thorough cleanser, providing the sweet, wholesome and clean effect to the china and glassware which gives a charm and zest to the meal.

Hewitt's Easy Task soap accomplishes all this because it does its own work and leaves no traces behind. It is clean, pure and effective, and costs no more than the "cheap" kinds.

A LOVER'S TEST

By MARGARET KELLY
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

In Constantinople there once lived a young girl whose father and mother, dying, had left her a snug fortune. Moreover, her parents being dead, she was at liberty to choose a husband for herself.

Now, Fatima—that was the girl's name—was very particular about one thing in the man who should be her husband. She wished him to be a brave man. Superstition at that time hung like a pall upon the Turks as well as the Christians. But Fatima was more enlightened than others and had a contempt for any young man who would be terror stricken at a supposed apparition.

Three lovers sought her hand. To the first she said: "My father last night appeared to me in a dream and told me that if I would send one whom I thought of marrying to the sepulcher in the cemetery where his body and those of others of our family lie he would appear to the suitor and give me to him. Go there and receive me from my father, and in the morning return to me. Then I will marry you."

The young man, whose name was Abdallah, reluctantly accepted the situation and said that he would go to the sepulcher as soon as it was dark and wait for the ghost's appearance.

Then Fatima told the second lover, Hamid, what she had done, adding that if he would go to the sepulcher and appear to Abdallah as a ghost and scare him away she would accept Hamid for her husband. Hamid was quite pleased at what he considered an easy way to get a rich wife and agreed to abide by the result of his effort.

The third suitor, Bismillah, was an independent fellow, and Fatima preferred him to either of the others. She told him of the arrangement she had made with them and said that she would also give him a chance for her hand. Whoever of the three was found in the sepulcher in the morning she would marry.

"Nonsense!" replied Bismillah. "I'm not going to make a guy of myself by sleeping in a tomb."

"Oh, I thought you loved me," replied Fatima.

"So I do, but not well enough to risk my life by remaining all night in a cold sepulcher. What good would it do me to win a wife and die?"

"It is very plain," said Fatima, "that you do not love me."

"I don't call love giving way to a whim."

"It is not a whim; it is a test."

"Very well, test these other men. I have no mind to enter such an absurd competition."

He turned on his heel and left her. She was very much disappointed. She had given her word to the other two to marry the one who should fulfill the conditions, relying on Bismillah, whom she knew to be brave and free from superstitions, to occupy the sepulcher and thus win her. His refusal upset all her plans and would give her a husband she did not wish to marry.

She lay awake all night bemoaning the miscarriage of her plan and thinking how foolish she had been to undertake it. She knew Bismillah would not fear to remain all night in any uncanny place, and she respected him for not being willing to win her in such fashion. Besides, his indifference only made her more anxious to have him for her husband.

She fretted over the matter till just before dawn, when she determined to go herself and try to frighten away the suitors she did not wish to marry. Dressing herself, she wound a sheet about her and hurried to the cemetery. Approaching the sepulcher of her ancestors, she heard a sound and stopped to listen. Could it be a snore? Surely it was a snore. One of the men she had sent there had got rid of the other, gone into the sepulcher and fallen asleep.

All now depended on Fatima's frightening away the man in the sepulcher. The moon had risen, and there was light enough from this and the coming of dawn for her to be distinctly seen, though it was too dark for her to see the man in the sepulcher. Standing before the door, which was open, she gave a shriek. There was a sound as of some one turning, the creaking of some sort of a bed, and a voice came: "Go away from here and cease to disturb my slumber."

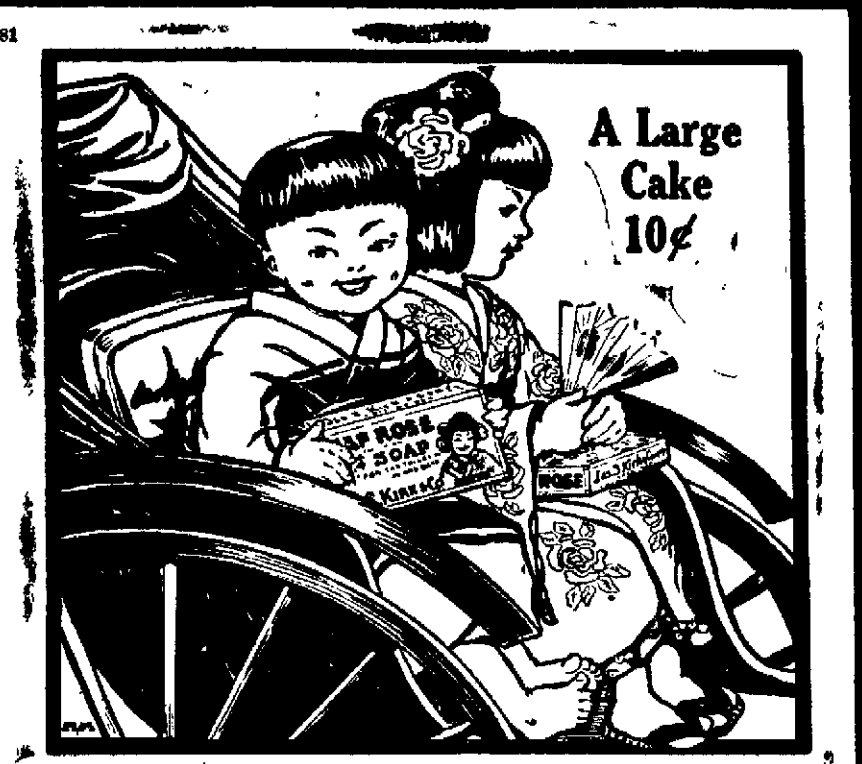

"Leave this abode of the dead," said Fatima in a sepulchral voice, "or I will drag you with me to Tartarus."

"That would please me greatly," replied the voice inside. "By coming here I have put myself in an unpleasant position. A girl told me that if I would occupy this place till morning she would marry me. I refused; then, lest she should think me cowardly, I came. I brought my bed with me and drove away two fools I found here. Now I suppose I shall have to marry this girl. I would prefer going with you to Tartarus."

There was silence for a few moments, then Fatima gave a sob, then a laugh, and Bismillah, who knew from the first it was she, sprang from the cot he occupied, took her in his arms and checked her sobs and her laughter with kisses.

Then, taking up his bed, he carried it, walking home beside her.

There wasn't any trouble about her choosing a lover after that. The two other suitors took a back seat, and Bismillah occupied the only front one.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Economy in Eating.
Economy in eating is physiological and economic. Health is dependent largely upon proper food selection and proper eating.
Vitality spent in digesting wrong food or proper food improperly eaten cannot be used for work or play. That food which supplies the body's requirements with the least expenditure of energy for digestion, with due regard to the necessity for exercising the digestive organs normally, is the best, and that which supplies the necessary food with the least expenditure is otherwise the best. Boiled cabbage, for instance, contains practically no nourishment and requires five times as much energy to digest as bananas, which are a complete food. Nuts and olives are a better source of fat than butter or lard. Sugar contains no waste, but it is ordinarily unwholesome. Coffee has no food value. Fresh skim milk, with the addition of olive or other vegetable oil, is more economical, physiologically and otherwise, than sweet milk. Meat is superior as a source of protein to nuts.

ADVOCATE'S ANNOUNCEMENT

To Democratic Candidates for City Offices at the Coming Primary Election.

The Advocate will not publish any paid announcements of candidates for city offices at the primary elections to be held this year.

The paper deems it necessary to make this departure from what has been its lifelong custom in consequence of the unusual existing conditions at this time.

The names of worthy candidates will be printed in these columns from time to time as matters of news only, but paid announcements will be excluded absolutely.

MEANING OF THE ADVOCATE'S NOTICE

The Advocate's announcement that it will refuse to publish any paid announcements of candidates before the coming Democratic primaries does not seem to be fully understood by some parties.

The statement is so plain that the meaning should be unmistakable.

The names of worthy candidates will be published only as matters of news. But such candidates must be worthy of the Advocate's support at the election, and the paper will be the judge of their worthiness.

This is the Advocate's first practical step in carrying out the position the paper took in regard to the Newark Mayorality on the 22nd of March last.

In short, the announcement serves notice that the paper intends to carry out just what it said on that occasion and in the articles of recent date.

OPPOSITION TO TAFT IN HIS OWN PARTY

President Taft will be opposed by progressive Republicans for a re-nomination on the ground that he is still the mouthpiece of Aldrich and the great law-defying industrial corporations of the country.

If proof was necessary to show that the old alliance between Taft and Aldrich still exists, the President himself furnished it on two notable occasions within the last couple of weeks when he went out of his way to indorse the Aldrich near-central-bank scheme which is designed to give Wall Street absolute control of the money and credit of the United States, and thus make it the absolute master of business and industry.

Progressive Republicans contend that if the President should be renominated and re-elected "he would continue to be the complaisant hel-mote of schemers like Aldrich, who are striving constantly to make the great masses of the public little more than the serfs of the few men who compose the great financial combination, of which J. Pierpont Morgan and the Standard Oil capitalists are the most conspicuous figures." And Mr.
Taft now publicly confirms the fears of the progressives.

Therefore the only thing left for the public to conclude is that Mr. Taft's re-election would necessarily place back in control of Congress the same class of men who were swept out by the indignation of the public in the last election.

That Mr. Taft is but the mouthpiece of Aldrich in all his speeches in which he advocates the Aldrich monetary scheme as being "the most important" legislation before the public is evident on the face of things. For Mr. Taft has himself been frank enough to say that he knows nothing about the Aldrich plan; that he has not studied the financial question, and that he has taken his convictions from those who have told him the Aldrich plan should be adopted.

Taft's strong endorsement of the Aldrich scheme will make it more necessary than ever for the progressives within his party to prevent his nomination. It also means that the Aldrich scheme will be made one of the big campaign issues of 1912. The Democrats desire no better issue. The scheme Aldrich has cooked up gives to Morgan the power of life and death over business and industry. For the life of both is credit, and the control of credit Taft would place absolutely in Morgan's hands.

DEMOCRATS MAKING HONEST EFFORTS

The Democrats are sincere in their efforts to run the House of Representatives on an economical business basis. The report of Jerry South, chief clerk of the House, just made public, shows that during the month of June a saving of $8,561.90 was effected as a result of the abolishing of useless offices. This item, which does not include the big reduction on the police force which the senate has not yet concurred in, but will approve shortly, means a saving of $102,742.80 in a year.

This is not a stupendous sum, it is true, but the spirit is in striking contrast to the $35 waste-paper baskets in the offices of Postmaster General Hitchcock and the expensive recreations taken by the Aldrich monetary commission at public expense at Narragansett pier.

PROHIBITION DOES NOT PROHIBIT

(Philadelphia Record.)
After trying prohibition for two years, Montgomery, Ala., has gone "wet" by a vote of 2500 to 600. It is impossible to attribute so striking a result to sinister influences. The only inference warranted is that Montgomery has found prohibition impossible and has decided to go back to the high license plan of regulating a traffic which cannot be suppressed.

A LITTLE HOBBY.

I have a little hobby, and ride it every day, and it is fine and nobby, and swell resherashy. If people would but heed it, this world would brighter be, for all the nations need it as much as liberty. But when I would expound it, the people all disperse; I hear them say, "Confound it!" Sometimes they even curse. And when a friend I visit, he whispers, at the door: "Here comes the great what is it—the champion village bore!" No matter where I travel, the same old tale is told; I see men scratching gravel when they my form behold. They raise their umbrellas, these timid, nervous souls; they crawl into the cellars, they shin up lofty poles. Old women always dodge me, likewise the village belles, and say they'd like to lodge me in jails or padded cells. The road is rough and rutty on which my tribys tread; even children say I'm nutty, and throw things at my head. And so I'm sad and sobby, my voice to sorrow pitched; I can't explain my hobby, for folks won't stand un-hitched.

SENATORS MAKE STRONG ARGUMENTS FOR RECIPROCITY

Washington, July 20.—The Gates of Reciprocity oratory were opened in the senate today under the agreement that there can be no debate on the question Saturday when a vote will be taken. Senator Bailey, Democrat of Texas in a long discussion this afternoon explained his reasons for opposing the agreement. He was followed by Senator Jones, Rep. of Washington, who urged the passage of the bill.

"This legislation," he said "is a long step toward full and free intercourse with the magnificent people of the north. The phantoms and the ghosts of evil that have been conjured up by those opposing the measure will become ridiculous as the years roll by."

Washington, July 20.—Vigorous support of the reciprocity agreement
by Senators Brown, Nebraska, Stone, Missouri, and Works of California, and a short speech against the measure by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, made up yesterday's debate on the measure in the Senate.

Senator Stone arraigned the interests, which, he said, had been using the farmers for the purpose of attacking reciprocity. He declared Democrats could find no excuse for not supporting the agreement as introduced by President Taft.

"This is part of a great progressive movement toward a closer commercial alliance with Canada that will be for the lasting benefit of both countries," said Senator Stone. "The President is on the right side; the Democratic House of Representatives is on the right side. It will be a pitiful spectacle if the Senate should stand as a stumbling block."

He said he had been charged by some Democrats with being an ally of the Republican President.

"I am supporting the measure, not the President," he said. "As soon as it is disposed of I am afraid my alliance with him will cease unless he is willing to support some of the Democratic tariff bills."

Senator Stone said the reciprocity bill had been pictured as a ghost
"stalking around in a moonless night seeking farmers to devour." He declared the opposition of the farmers had in almost every case been artificially created. The 30,000-name petition from Minnesota, presented by Senator Nelson, was the result of an agricultural paper, he said.

The National Grange had been used by the firm of New York lawyers, At-len and Grahame, who were summoned before the Finance committee, said Senator Stone, to oppose reciprocity for the benefit of other interests that the firm represented. Instead of being lawyers for the farmer, he said, they were "professional lobbyists," and represented manufacturers.

"The idea was to arouse the farmers and have them march upon the capital and Congress," said Senator Stone.
"But behind them were these great interests, footing the bills and urging them on."

Criticism of his insurgent Republican colleagues in the Senate for opposing Canadian reciprocity, and praise of the Democratic party "for having the moral courage and patriotism to support and sustain a Republican President" characterized the speech of Senator Brown.

"This bill," he concluded, "is the cornerstone of a new tariff system which will put an end forever, I hope, to unnecessary and excessive duties."

WILL NOT RE-CONVENE LEGISLATURE

Governor Harmon It is Stated, Pays
No Attention to Tax Limit Cry.

Columbus, July 20.—Governor Harmon, it can be said with authority, has not the slightest intention of convening the legislature this fall.

While he is secluded in his summer home at Charlevoix, Mich., those who know intimately his position on the subject, agree that the executive neither is disturbed nor surprised by the latest racket over the Smith tax limit law. That has been expected.
It is certain that the judgment of Governor Harmon has not been affected by the opinion on the subject given by Attorney General Hogan. On two propositions during the recent legislative session, Governor Harmon staked his admitted standing and reputation as an attorney. The workability of the Smith law without amendment was one of those. The other was the legality of non-partisan election of delegates to the constitutional convention.
The governor stands with Judge R. M.
Ditsey, chairman of the tax commission, in the belief that the Smith law needs no immediate alteration.

The Smith law tangle will be settled by the courts, but the governor is as confident of his ground on that as on the Green constitutional convention law. The only question involved is whether the statute requiring to make appropriations at the beginning of each fiscal half year is directory or mandatory. It has been assumed that it is mandatory. Governor Harmon and Judge Ditsey, after a thorough investigation, found stacks of decisions holding that it was merely directory.
They have taken their stand on these decisions of numerous courts.

If they are correct it is only necessary for councils to make appropriations in January to the extent of money in the treasury, which will carry until more money is received, when additional appropriations can be made.

The tax commission now is doing substantially the same thing in appraising railroads and utilities for taxation. The law fixes the time when this shall be done. That time long since was passed. The record of the commission shows that it met at the proper time, took up the subject, and has since been working on it in practically continuous session. In no quarter is there an expression of fear that the railroad assessments will not stand, although, like every other feature of important new legislation, the question probably will reach the courts.

EDITORS

IN ANNUAL SESSION AT DETROIT
ADDRESS BY U. S. REP.
HENRY A. BARNHART.

Newspaper Men Factors for Good and
As More Are Sent to Congress
Legislative Millennium Nears.

Detroit, July 20.—The feature of yesterday's sessions of the annual convention of the National Editorial Association of the United States was an address delivered at a special session last night by United States Representative Henry A. Barnhart of Indiana, who discussed the newspaper man's duty in connection with national legislation. The editors spent the afternoon visiting various points of interest along the Detroit river.

"Since the people are sending more editors to each succeeding congress, down off the legislative millenium is correspondingly near," said Mr.
Barnhart.

"The great duty of the newspaper man," he said, "is to work for more possibilities, more health and more happiness for the people."

"In the great conflicts of public opinion for better things," said the speaker, "newspapers are a power for good or for evil in proportion to the backbone or the jelly they show for public welfare. The newspaper that panders to unwholesome public thought is a deserter in the face of high public duty and the one that puts conscience above the counting room cash register builds mightily for larger blessings to civilization, both at home and hereafter."

He denounced the policy of newspapers which blindly support the candidates of their party, whether or not the candidates are worthy of public confidence and trust.

"The monopolist, the franchise grabber, the lobbyist and the apostles of boodle are usually strong partisans," he said, "and if anyone attempts to expose their schemes they wrap themselves in the flag and cry out, 'You are attacking the party.'"

"Tell the truth and fear no man is the only safe guide to editorial success in shaping the destiny of our country. And when we do this the golden age of just law enactment, bad law abolishment and wholesome law enforcement will make ours a mightier and happier people."

tion by the employment of experts to appraise the property.

A subcommittee will go to Mohonk Lake to take Arbuckle's testimony, as he is too ill to appear here.

Chairman Hardwick announced the appointment of a subcommittee composed of Representatives Sulzer, Malby, Jacobway and Hinds, with authority to examine and investigate all of the books, records and correspondence of the American Sugar Refining Company.

Mr. Sulzer got Mr. Thomas to say that his company could manufacture sugar as cheaply, or nearly so, as it could be made in any other country. It was owing to the tariff, he thought, that the price of sugar is higher here than in England.

Mr. Thomas said the American made less than 50 per cent of the sugar in this country, and that it therefore is not a monopoly. Representative Jacobway asked Mr. Thomas why the American increased its capital from $75,000,000 to $90,000,000.

"To take in about 33 beet sugar refineries," was the reply.

Mr. Thomas said that the work of acquiring the beet sugar interests was done exclusively by H. O. Havemeyer, who was not in the habit of consulting anyone else about sugar company transactions.

In reference to the agreement between the American Sugar Refining Company and the American Beet Sugar Company in 1902 to pool selling interests, Mr. Thomas said John E. Parsons had told his company that the agreement was not in violation of the anti-trust law, but that when Secretary MacVeagh informed his company it was a violation of the law, the agreement was abrogated.

"You have about 10,000 women stockholders in New England?"

"Yes."

"When prosecution threatened your company, did not you and your assistants unload most of your own sugar stock on these New England women?"

"Not at all."

Mr. Jacobway asked the witness if his company was not in constant warfare with the raw sugar producers of Louisiana.

"Yes, we are competitors."

"Is that why you advertised in trade papers that raw sugar is unhealthy and has a bug in it?"

"I know nothing about those advertisements," answered the witness, but he was instructed to get the information for the committee.

Mr. Madison, who took a hand in the questioning, said he believed the common stock of the American Sugar Refining Company in the New Jersey suit would be invalidated, "as the issuing of that stock was a terrible steal," and that this would give the American Company control, thus increasing its output to nearly 60 per cent of the country's product. This, with the American's large interest in the beet sugar industry, would make the American a most formidable corporation, absolutely controlling one of the country's necessities.

"Do you think congress should control such a powerful organization?" he was asked.

"I think it would be a good thing," replied the witness.

"The directors of the American who favor selling the company's beet sugar stock are in favor of removing the tariff on sugar?" asked Mr. Malby.

"Yes."

"Certainly, because the low tariff on sugar would hurt beet sugar stock," cried Mr. Malby.

Mr. Thomas insisted the American did not control the Great Western Beet Sugar Company of Colorado, but Mr. Malby brought out that with the holdings of the Havemeyer estate they controlled about two-thirds of that company. The American, said Mr. Thomas, also holds 50 per cent of the Spreckles interests in California.

Mr. Thomas said that any effort to control the sugar business had been a complete failure. Competition had been constantly increasing and each year the American's share of this country's business is decreasing.

"Since we started to sell our beet sugar holdings we have sold $12,000,000 of our $33,000,000 interests in such industry," said Mr. Thomas. "At this $12,000,000, $4,000,000 was sold before Mr. Havemeyer's death."

"Mr. Raker read from the minutes of the company in August, 1892, a mysterious entry saying that 'the president, having reported to the secretary of preventing injurious litigation and other hurtful actions and on appeals from both political parties it was resolved—'

Here the passage ended with a cryptogram, which Mr. Raker wanted to know about. He wanted to know what was done with that resolution.

As Mr. Thomas was unable to explain the committee ordered the secretary to produce the resolution and all others of similar tenor.

HERD OF WORKING ELEPHANTS

Will Visit Newark With the John Robinson Circus Next Monday, July 24.

When the John Robinson Ten Big Shows exhibit in Newark for two performances on Monday, July 24, they will bring with them the first herd of Asiatic working elephants ever seen in this country. This wonderful herd of pachyderms were acquired two years ago by agents who visited the remote parts of Asia in search for animals and people odd and interesting enough for exhibition purposes.

These particular elephants with the John Robinson Ten Big Shows are known as lumber working elephants. That is, they work in the great lumber districts of Asia. What they have been taught in their own country, coupled to the finishing touches that have been put to their education here makes them unquestionably one of the most valuable herds in the country.

Lazy and clumsy-looking as the elephant appears in the menageries of America, where it is an object of curiosity, in Asia it is as useful an animal as the horse, and indeed, employed in a great number of ways. According to travellers and writers who have visited the Far East there are few, if any, tasks which a horse can be trusted to perform without constant guidance, whereas an elephant is given as much independence of action as a man would have for the same work. This is notably the case in the great lumber yards of the Rangoon and Moulemein where the entire operation of moving and piling the heavy timber is performed by male elephants without any special supervision by the keepers.

The logs to be moved are teak wood which is very heavy. They are cut into lengths of twenty feet with a diameter or perhaps a square of about a foot. An elephant will go to a log, kneel down, thrust his tusks under the middle of it, curl his trunk over it, test it to see if it is evenly balanced, and then rise with it and easily carry it to the pile that is being made. Placing the log carefully on the pile in its proper place, the sagacious animal will measure with his eye to determine whether or not the log needs pushing one way or another. It will then make any necessary alterations of position. In this way, without any word or command from its mahout or driver, it will go on with its work.

FRECKLES GONE

"Simple Remedy from W. A. Erman & Son Removed Them," Says Society Lady.

"The best skin specialists told me that nothing would remove my freckles and that I would carry them to my grave," said a well known society woman, "but I fooled them all with a new drug, ointment—double strength, that I bought at W. A. Erman & Son's, which cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of ointment is really remarkable, for when applied at night many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even for the worst case.

Be sure to ask W. A. Erman & Son for the double strength ointment, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

CASE CONTINUED BY MAYOR ANKELE

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Horton and Robinson, charged with the destruction of property belonging to the Ohio Electric Railway company at Granville, has been continued until 2:00 p. m. on July 28. Horton was brought before Mayor Ankele Wednesday afternoon. Because John James, second witness, refused to answer questions regarding his conduct on the night of June 26, and was ordered to prison by Mayor Ankele for contempt of court, no disposition was made of the case.

Rev. F. M. Evans of Granville was the first witness called, and testified that he had been awakened on that evening by the sound of voices, and pounding of rails. He stepped out on the lawn from where he saw three figures moving about the fire, but was unable to identify them. The testimony of the other witnesses was practically the same; that they had seen the figures but were unable to identify them in the darkness. A writ of habeas corpus was issued and James was discharged immediately after the hearing because Judge Hunter found that the mayor had no right to compel a witness to answer question which would tend to incriminate him.

Escaped With His Life.
"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin of Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. 50¢ and $1.00 Trial bottle free at F. D. Hall's."

NO TRACE FOUND OF MURDERER

One Thousand Searchers
Seek Man Who Shot
Banker's Wife

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL

Were Unable to Pick Up a Scent
That Could be Followed.

Richmond, Va., July 20.—On the ownership of a shotgun of an ordinary type hinges today the solution of the sensational mystery of the slaying of Mrs. Louise Owen Beattie Jr., wife of the Manchester banker, who, according to the story told by her husband, was shot down while seated beside him in their auto.

The murder is the most mysterious in the history of the state. Despite the efforts of more than a thousand searchers, no one has seen a trace of the man who, according to Beattie, blocked the Middlethorpe pike on Tuesday night, and when asked to give up half the road, raised his gun and fired directly into the Beattie automobile, instantly killing Mrs. Beattie.

The woods surrounding the turnpike for more than five miles have been thoroughly searched without revealing the slightest clue. Two packs of bloodhounds brought to the scene within six hours after the crime was committed wandered aimlessly around two pools of blood in the middle of the hard turnpike and then turned their muzzles skyward and bayed loud and long. It is plain that they were unable to pick up a trail that could be followed.

The coroner has possession of the bloodstained automobile, the suit of clothes worn by Beattie and the shotgun. He is trying to trace the gun and if its ownership can be established the slayer will be found. To give the police time to work on the case the inquest will not be held until tomorrow.

The Beatties were married last August. They have a two weeks old baby, and, according to Beattie, the fact that it was not in its mother's arms when she was killed was due to its having been asleep when they started on the ill-fated night ride.

Beattie says they were returning from a 15-mile run when at a lonely spot in the pike he saw a man jump from the bushes into the middle of the highway. He jammed the brakes on as the figure, dimly discernible in the darkness, demanded with an oath if he was trying to run him down.

"I told him there was room enough for both," said Beattie to the coroner, "and tried to pass him. He seemed drunk and very surly. I noticed he had a shotgun in his hand. Without a moment's warning he raised the gun and fired. The muzzle was not more than a yard from my wife. As he fired I leaped from the car and grappled with him. I seized the gun and he struck me a fearful blow on the nose, rendering me momentarily unconscious. When I recovered he was gone and with one arm around my dead wife I drove 15 miles through the darkness."

Beattie has an abrasion on his nose. He couldn't explain how it was there were two pools of blood in the road some distance apart. The charge of shot entered Mrs. Beattie in a spot not more than an inch and a half in diameter, and the muzzle of the gun having been held so close to her head that wads and all entered the wound.

Detectives arrested Irving Brown, a negro who lived near the scene, but he was soon discharged.

Richmond, Va., July 20.—Asserting that they would make an arrest within 24 hours the police today ordered Henry Clay Beattie, the young banker, whose wife was murdered while she sat beside him in their automobile Tuesday night to remain at the home of his uncle in Manchester. The reason assigned for this is that they desire to have him at hand in case additional information regarding the tragedy is secured. Sensational developments in the near future were hinted at by the police today.

Beattie again insisted today that it was too dark when the crime was committed for him to tell whether the murderer was a white man or a negro.

BACKDOWN OF SPAIN WAS DUE TO GERMANY

Lodon, July 20.—Unofficial information received today by the foreign office indicates, it was said, that Spain's back-down in the Moroccan situation and apology to France for the arrest of the French consul at Alcazar was brought about by instructions from Germany in order not to complicate the situation unless the Franco-German negotiations fail.

Daddy's Lecture
Story—On Slang Spoiled

How Rats Got Stolen
Egg Upstairs

"JACK," began daddy as he started in for the inevitable good night story, "I heard you this afternoon say 'Rats' to Harry Baldwin when you were having an argument out in the orchard. Now tell me just what you meant by that."

Jack fussed around and turned his pillow over and tucked his feet under the sheets before he answered.

"Truly, daddy," he replied, "I can't answer you exactly. But Harry had just told me something I couldn't believe."

"And so you just said 'rats'?" remarked daddy. "Did that mean anything? Why didn't you say 'carrots' or 'elephants' or 'slate pencils'? Wouldn't that have been just as sensible?"

"Yes, sir," confessed Jack, "but somehow 'rats' seems to mean something."

"Well, I can't see what it can mean concerning story telling," remarked daddy, "especially to any one who has studied even a little bit about these much abused animals."

"Of course I'll admit that they are a nuisance and that they spread disease, but so do the dogs and cats that you so love to have me tell you about. And do you know that they can do more to help the cotton pickers than any number of laborers and that they work night and day for no greater pay than a few dozen cotton bolls?"

"The handlers of raw cotton had always found it difficult to extract the seeds from the long fiber or threads without hurting the material, until lately they found that rats were very fond of the seed."

"So they just got together all the rats they could find and turned them loose among the cotton bolls. And the rats did patiently all around the bolls and pick out the seeds without damaging the threads at all."

"And their intelligence is wonderful. You must have heard of how they will never stay on a ship that is going to sink. But did you ever hear of how they get a stolen egg downstairs without breaking it?"

"No, sir," said the children.

"Well, one of them will lie on its back and grab the egg tight with its four legs, and his partner will pull his tail gently and bump him upside down all down a flight of stairs until they get their prize safely to their hole and roll it in."

"Have the rats got a union?" asked Jack. "I think I could start one and make some money."

"Oh, rats!" answered daddy.

With reports of 30 railroad fatalities received daily by the interstate commerce commission, isn't there something wrong with American railroad operation? It is true that this country has far the largest mileage and far the largest transportation business of any country in the world, but the proportion of our accidents and fatalities outruns even our supremacy in mere bulk. Our country is new, to be sure, as compared with the European nations. Perhaps when we have the general separation of grades that exists abroad the number of fatalities will be materially diminished.

This is "CN Week"

When CN comes into the home every vestige of disease germs disappears

It's not remarkable that homes cleaned with CN are free from disease, because CN destroys the dirt that breeds disease. Practically all homes are free from "noticeable dirt" but only the homes cleaned with CN are free from "unseen dirt"—and it's the "unseen dirt" that starts the trouble.

Soap and Water Cleaning is "Make-believe" Cleaning

"Soap and water cleaning" is only top cleaning—the drippings that get into the unreachable crevices form a "jelly" that breeds germs. But a few drops of CN poured into the pail of cleaning water insures pure cleaning and safe cleaning.

Three tablespoonsful of CN to a quart of water will kill all the "sickly summer odors" that emanate from the floors, pantries, ice-boxes, kitchen sinks, drain-pipes, rubbish heaps, garbage-pails, toilets, dumbwaiters and cellars.

As a matter of precaution CN is invaluable in the home, not only as the most powerful disinfectant, but as a healing antiseptic and able cleanser.

UNIFORMED KNIGHTS TO GIVE FANCY DRILLS ON CITY'S PUBLIC SQUARE

Thursday was the big day of the 24th annual convention of the colored Knights of Pythias of Ohio, which has been held in Newark during the past three days. The work of the convention was practically completed when the convention adjourned at the noon hour.

The fact that the big parade and other features in connection with the convention would be held Thursday had the effect of drawing large crowds to the city and long before noon the largest crowd of colored very much over the time adjournment had been planned for.

The report of the auditing committee showed that all grand lodge books were neatly kept and in excellent shape, all accounts balancing. The report also showed assets to the amount of nearly $30,000.

One of the principal things coming before Thursday's session of the grand lodge was the selection of the next place of meeting of the grand lodge. Dayton and Springfield were strong candidates for the honor, and

SIR H. H. FERGUSON
Past Grand and Chancellor

people that has ever come together in Newark had assembled.

All the steam trains and interurban cars running into the city brought large crowds. One special train of interurban cars, three in number, came over from Columbus, bringing three companies of the uniformed rank, C and A of Columbus and D of Springfield, together with a large number of friends. As fast as the uniformed companies arrived in the city they repaired to the Music Hall, where they made their headquarters, as did also the Ninth Battalion Band. Speaking of the Ninth Battalion Band, the organization is quite a favorite with Newark people. The old band came here several years ago with the colored troops and the nightly concerts given there are still remembered with pleasure by many Newark people.

In the meantime the grand lodge was still in session and the delegates were industriously laboring to get all the business of the convention finished at an early hour. The session opened promptly at 8:30 o'clock, and there was a rush of business from that time on.

The committee on law and supervision made its final report as to the approval or disapproval of new laws introduced.

The report of the grand keeper of records and seal was made, after which the auditing committee made its report.

The committee on state of order made its report, showing the entire grand jurisdiction to be in most excellent shape and each department forging ahead with rapid strides.

The special committee on physicians that was appointed as a board of health, made its report, recommending a plan by which the entire membership of the order could be reached and health and sanitary conditions put in force for the prevention of pulmonary and other diseases known to be frequent in the order.

The special committee on insurance made its report, devising a new plan of issuing new policies for $500, $800 and $1000.

The report of the grand keeper of records and seal, W. A. Burke of Columbus, was heard. His report showed the entire working of the grand jurisdiction and was full of interesting data. Mr. Burke is an expert accountant and his report showed fine business ability.

Quite a number of questions came up before the grand lodge Thursday morning, which had not been anticipated and the work was prolonged

both places had most active workers. When the vote was taken and the ballots counted, however, it was found that the majority of the delegates had voted in favor of holding the grand lodge at Dayton. The meeting will be held in July of next year, about the same time this convention was held.

New Officers Elected.

At Thursday afternoon's session the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Grand Chancellor—Rev. E. L. Gilliam of Columbus re-elected.

Grand Vice Chancellor—W. L. Anderson of Cincinnati re-elected.

Prelate—W. L. Kennedy of Zanesville.

K. of R. and S.—W. A. Burke of Columbus re-elected for the fourth term.

G. M. of E.—H. M. Higgins of Cincinnati re-elected.

G. M. at A.—J. A. Good of East Liverpool.

Grand Medical Registrar—W. C. Gordon of Springfield.

Grand Lecturer—Harry T. Elliott of Dayton; re-elected.

Grand Inner Guard—C. Scurvy of Xenia.

Grand Outer Guard—M. F. Clark of Ironton.

Grand Lodge Attorney—M. H. Jones of Dayton.

Endowment Board—Wm. See of Gallipolis, John Male of Columbus.

Supreme Representatives—William Ferguson of Columbus; S. T. Sneed of Cincinnati.

Grand Marshal—Major Morris of Dayton.

The Parade.

The parade at 2:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon was the big spectacular feature of the convention, and was participated in by a large number of uniformed knights, delegates and others, the men presenting a most impressive appearance in uniform. Among the uniformed companies in line were Co. C of Springfield, Capt. M. L. Peters; Co. D of Springfield, Capt. A. Viney. Both these companies were of the first regiment, Co. A of Columbus, Capt. P. D. Larry and Co. A of Columbus, Capt. W. H. Wood. The Columbus companies belong to the Second regiment. Co. L of Zanesville, Capt. Charles M. Gannon, was also of the Second regiment.

The parade formed in front of the high school building on West Main street and marched around the public square and the principal streets of the city in the following order:

Newark Police.
Grand Marshal Weaver and Staff.
Ninth Battalion Band.
Gen. C. C. Caldwell and Staff.
Col. Hatcher of First Regt. and Staff.
Col. Leathers and Staff, Second Regt.

Backeye Band.
Uniformed Rank Companies.
Grand Lodge Officers and Grand Court Ladies in Carriages.
Newark Company, No. 62.

Following the parade the uniformed companies and a great many of the visitors repaired to Moundbuilders Park where a grand contest drill was had between the visiting companies. P sizes to the amount of $200 had been offered and the drills were very spirited and interesting. A fine flag was given the winner of one of the drills and cash prizes were awarded others.

Thursday evening a grand ball and banquet will be given at A. I. U. hall for the benefit of the uniform rank and it no doubt will be largely attended.

Every delegate who came to Newark for the convention speaks in terms of commendation of the treatment he has received at the hands of our people, while the members of the local lodge fairly outdid themselves in their efforts to treat the guests with royal fraternal hospitality.

C. C. CALDWELL
Brig. General.

Newark has surely done itself proud in the entertainment of the visitors. Many of the business houses around the square were decorated for the occasion during all the week, while on Thursday many additional decorations were to be seen. One very commendable feature in connection with the convention is the fact that all did all in their power to make the stranger within our gates feel perfectly at home.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The grand lodge opened Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with Grand Chancellor Gilliam presiding, and the report of grand lodge officers was resumed.

The committee on credentials made its final report, showing there were 150 votes in the convention.

The reports of the other committees consumed a considerable portion of the afternoon session.

The report of Brigadier General C. C. Caldwell of Columbus was heard in reference to the uniform rank of the order. General Caldwell has seen much military service and is a man well versed in military tactics. For a long time he served in company B, Ninth O. N. G., and also served as First Lieutenant of the 48th U. S. V. I. for two years in the Philippine Islands. He was recently elected captain of Company B of the Ninth regiment, O. N. G., at Columbus. His report showed that there were 25 companies of the uniform rank, with a membership of 625.

During the afternoon session a committee of ladies from the Grand Court of Calanthe, which has been holding its session in the Opera House building, visited the grand lodge, during which time the work of the grand lodge was suspended.

The committee on necrology reported, reading a memorial in honor of the deceased brothers.

The committee on law and supervision made its report, but before it could finish an adjournment was had.

One of the most enjoyable events in connection with the meeting in our city of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, was the promenade and ball held in A. I. U. hall on Wednesday night. There was a large number of knights and ladies in attendance and the evening was spent most enjoyably in "tripping the light fantastic" to the inspiring strains of Stevens' orchestra.

The suggestion by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, that every employe try to save 10 cents a day for the company, is not only sensible, but practical. It is thoughtless in most cases, but there is so much waste in small ways these times that the total is frightful to contemplate.

According to the reports just made out the business on many of the railroads for the month of June did not measure up to that of the month of May. However, the business was larger than for the same month last year and there are prospects for a big business during the present month.

The movement of grain is expected to bring a great deal of business to the railroads within the next few weeks.

The Atchafalaya and Santa Fe have ordered 80 locomotives from the Baldwin Locomotive Works, representing an expenditure of $1,600,000 for equipment.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad, a subsidiary of the Atlantic Coast Line, has ordered 1,000 tons of structural steel from the American Bridge company.

Lines eastbound from Chicago have maintained their lead over a year ago in aggregate volume of tonnage shipped. In spite of rail and lake competition.

The use of "bingo" does away with cutting and digging with razors and other tools, and the attendant dangers from drawing blood, infection, etc. It doesn't make the healthy flesh raw and inflamed. It doesn't stick to hosiery. Apply it to an aching corn or bunion and bingo! the pain stops at once. It shrivels up the hardened, deadened skin so you can remove it entirely without the least trouble. It works the same way on warts, too.—Woman's Realm.

INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET

Admitted to be the most comprehensive in the annals of aviation, the program for the International Aviation Meet to be held in Grant Park Chicago, August 12-20, has been received with applause by every aviator and aeronautical association in this country and Europe.

Covering a division of $50,000 in prize money, the largest ever offered, the diversity of events is such that every day of the meet will be filled with thrills from the time of the starter's pistol for the first event, until the last feature of the day has been completed.

Every known feature of aviation will be presented and the contest committee is even arranging for still more events in order that nothing ever accomplished by birdmen shall be omitted.

Monoplanes and biplanes will race in various events in separate classes and other events will be open to both types. Likewise there will be altitude flights arranged in the same manner, weight-carrying, quick starting, quick climbing, alighting in a given space, bomb throwing and cross water races.

This last item will bring into play an especially exciting and interesting feature. The swiftest motor boats in the country will be at the lakeside edge of the course and when the races begin will speed through the water after the aviators.

Each day will see the division of thousands of dollars of prize money and in addition to this various organizations and individuals have offered cups and trophies to the winners of certain events.

H. H. Latham, the chairman of the athletic committee of the Chicago Athletic Association, has announced that the association will present a magnificent cup, said to be valued at $2,500, to the aviator who breaks the world's altitude record, to become his personal property.

In the event of the record not being broken, the cup will go to the aviator scoring the highest altitude at the meet, and shall remain in his possession until the record is broken, when it will go to the birdman accomplishing that feat.

Likewise Manager W. S. Shafer of the Auditorium Hotel will present a cup to the aviator breaking the world's record for twenty miles, or in the event of the record not being broken, the cup shall be governed by the same conditions applying to that of the Athletic Association.

Whatever the proceeds may be, after expenses are paid, will be devoted to the United Charities of Chicago, thereby eliminating the question of financial gain for any individual.

Signed contracts received from Harry N. Atwood, who recently made several spectacular flights in and around New York; James V. Martin, the Harvard aviator, and Howard Le Van, the boy aviator, bring the total number thus far under contract to seventeen, with an equal number yet to come.

One famous American aviator is working on a piece of apparatus, which if successful will have tremendous bearing upon the use of aeroplanes on warships.

He proposes to have a monster trap on the field in which shall be an aeroplane, and when the time arrives for the first event, President Taft is the one who will press an electric button, either in Washington or Chicago, hurling the aeroplane in the air and giving it its initial velocity.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

In the past, when a passenger on a railway train held a limited ticket it was all right if he began his return journey by midnight of the day on which the ticket expired. Now this has been changed by a ruling of the Interstate Commerce commission, and the ticket expires with midnight of the day to which it is limited. If the return journey has not been completed by that time, the passenger must pay regular fare for that part of his journey after the expiration of the ticket. It is probable that railroad conductors will have many disputes with passengers over this ruling, as it has long been customary to hold the ticket good so long as the return journey began before the expiration of the ticket.

The suggestion by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, that every employe try to save 10 cents a day for the company, is not only sensible, but practical. It is thoughtless in most cases, but there is so much waste in small ways these times that the total is frightful to contemplate.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Daddy's Lecture
On Slang Spoiled
By Himself

JACK began daddy as he started in for the inevitable good night story. "I heard you this afternoon say 'rats' to Harry Baldwin when you were having an argument out in the orchard. Now tell me just what you meant by that."

Jack fussed around and turned his pillow over and tucked his feet under the sheets before he answered.

"Truly, daddy," he replied, "I can't answer you exactly. But Harry had just told me something I couldn't believe."

"And so you just said 'rats'?" remarked daddy. "Did that mean anything? Why didn't you say 'carrots' or 'elephants' or 'slate pencils'? Wouldn't that have been just as sensible?"

"Yes, sir," confessed Jack, "but somehow 'rats' seems to mean something."

"Well, I can't see what it can mean concerning story telling," remarked daddy, "especially to any one who has studied even a little bit about these much abused animals."

"Of course I'll admit that they are a nuisance and that they spread disease, but so do the dogs and cats that you so love to have me tell you about. And do you know that they can do more to help the cotton pickers than any number of laborers and that they work night and day for no greater pay than a few dozen cotton bolls?"

"The handlers of raw cotton had always found it difficult to extract the seeds from the long fiber or threads without hurting the material, until lately they found that rats were very fond of the seed."

"So they just got together all the rats they could find and turned them loose among the cotton bolls. And the rats dig patiently all around the bolls and pick out the seeds without damaging the threads at all."

"And their intelligence is wonderful. You must have heard of how they will never stay on a ship that is going to sink. But did you ever hear of how they get a stolen egg downstairs without breaking it?"

"No, sir," said the children.

"Well, one of them will lie on his back and grab the egg tight with his four legs, and his partner will pull his tail gently and bump him upside down all down a flight of stairs until they get their prize safely to their hole and roll it in."

"Have the rats got a union?" asked Jack. "I think I could start one and make some money."

"Oh, rats!" answered daddy.

Good Wheat Yield.
In some places in Licking county the wheat is turning out better than was expected, and some of the farmers are rejoicing over the fact that the yield will be from 20 to 25 bushels an acre. It is said that the oats crop will not be on an average with that of last year, due to the extreme drought in the early part of the season.

Fast Auto Drivers.
Some automobile drivers in Newark seem to have no fear of the ordinance regarding fast driving through the streets of the city, especially when they are turning corners. Especially is this law violated at the West Main and Third street corners, a point at which a bad accident is going to occur some day because of fast driving.

Saw Forest Fires.
J. C. Mason, a well known resident of the North End, has returned from a week's vacation spent in Northern Michigan. Henry gives a vivid description of a forest fire that raged within a few miles of where he was visiting. He says the flames were distinctly visible and that they rolled along like the billows of the sea.

With reports of 20 railroad fatalities received daily by the interstate commerce commission, isn't there something wrong with American railroad operation? It is true that this country has far the largest mileage and far the largest transportation business of any country in the world, but the proportion of our accidents and fatalities outruns even our supremacy in mere bulk. Our country is new, to be sure, as compared with the European nations. Perhaps when we have the general separation of grades that exists abroad the number of fatalities will be materially diminished.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT.
Estate of Anna E. Roberts, deceased. The undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified as executor of the will of Anna E. Roberts, late of Licking County, Ohio. Dated this 19th day of July, A. D., 1911.

JAMES R. FITZGIBBON, Executor.

ABE MARTIN SAYS:

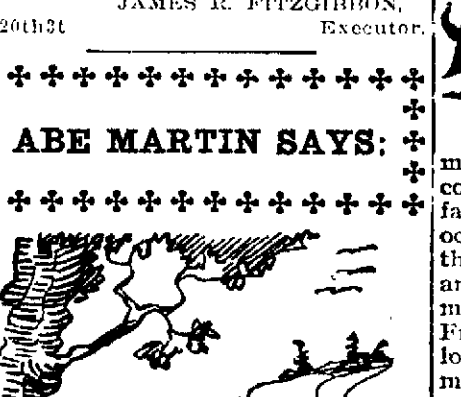

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

When CN comes into the home every vestige of disease germs disappears

It's not remarkable that homes cleaned with CN are free from disease, because CN destroys the dirt that breeds disease. Practically all homes are free from "noticeable dirt" but only the homes cleaned with CN are free from "unseen dirt"—and it's the "unseen dirt" that starts the trouble.

Soap and Water Cleaning is "Make-believe" Cleaning

"Soap and water cleaning" is only top cleaning—the droppings that get into the unreachable crevices form a "filthy" that breeds germs. But a few drops of CN poured into the pail of cleaning water insures pure cleaning and safe cleaning.

As a matter of precaution CN is invaluable in the home, not only as the most powerful disinfectant, but as a healing antiseptic and able cleanser.

Three tablespoonsful of CN for a quart of water will kill all the "silly summer odors" that emanate from the floors, pantries, ice-boxes, kitchen sinks, drain-pipes, rubbish heaps, garbage-pails, toilets, dumbwaiters and cellars.

UNIFORMED KNIGHTS TO GIVE FANCY DRILLS ON CITY'S PUBLIC SQUARE

Thursday was the big day of the 24th annual convention of the colored Knights of Pythias of Ohio, which has been held in Newark during the past three days. The work of the convention was practically completed when the convention adjourned at the noon hour.

The fact that the big parade and other features in connection with the convention would be held Thursday had the effect of drawing large crowds to the city and long before noon the largest crowd of colored people that has ever come together in Newark had assembled.

All the steam trains and interurban cars running into the city brought large crowds. One special train of interurban cars, three in number, came over from Columbus, bringing three companies of the uniformed rank, C and A of Columbus and D of Springfield, together with a large number of friends. As fast as the uniformed companies arrived in the city they repaired to the Music Hall, where they made their headquarters, as did also the Ninth Battalion Band. Speaking of the Ninth Battalion Band, the organization is quite a favorite with Newark people. The old band came here several years ago with the colored troops and the nightly concerts given then are still remembered with pleasure by many Newark people.

In the meantime the grand lodge was still in session, and the delegates were industriously laboring to get all the business of the convention finished at an early hour. The session opened promptly at 8:30 o'clock, and there was a rush of business from that time on.

The committee on law and supervision made its final report as to the approval or disapproval of new laws introduced.

The report of the grand keeper of records and seal was made, after which the auditing committee made its report.

The committee on state of order made its report, showing the entire grand jurisdiction to be in most excellent shape and each department forging ahead with rapid strides.

The special committee on physicians that was appointed as a board of health, made its report, recommending a plan by which the entire membership of the order could be reached and health and sanitary conditions put in force for the prevention of pulmonary and other diseases known to be frequent in the order.

The special committee on insurance made its report, devising a new plan of issuing new policies for $500, $800 and $1000.

The report of the grand keeper of records and seal, W. A. Burke of Columbus, was made. His report showed the entire working of the grand jurisdiction and was full of interesting data. Mr. Burke is an expert accountant and his report showed fine business ability.

Quite a number of questions came up before the grand lodge Thursday morning, which had not been anticipated and the work was prolonged

The thanks of the grand lodge were extended the citizens of Newark and the newspapers for courtesies extended.

The Parade.

The parade at 2:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon was the big spectacular feature of the convention, and was participated in by a large number of uniformed knights, delegates and others, the men presenting a most impressive appearance in uniform. Among the uniformed companies in line were Co. C of Springfield, Capt. M. L. Peters; Co. D of Springfield, Capt. A. Viney. Both these companies were of the first regiment, Co. A of Columbus, Capt. F. D. Larry and Co. A of Columbus, Capt. W. H. Wood. The Columbus companies belong to the Second regiment. Co. L of Zanesville, Capt. Charles M. Gibson, was also of the Second regiment.

The parade formed in front of the high school building on West Main street and marched around the public square and the principal streets of the city in the following order:

Newark Police.
Grand Marshal Weaver and Staff.
Ninth Battalion Band.
Gen. C. C. Caldwell and Staff.
Col. Hatcher of First Regt. and Staff.
Col. Leathers and Staff, Second Regt.
Buckeye Band.
Uniformed Rank Companies.
Grand Lodge Officers and Grand Court Ladies in Carriages.
Newark Company, No. 62.

Following the parade the uniformed companies and a great many of the visitors repaired to Moundbuilders Park where a grand contest drill was had between the visiting companies. P prizes to the amount of $200 had been offered and the drills were very spirited and interesting. A fine flag was given the winner of one of the drills and cash prizes were awarded others.

Thursday evening a grand ball and banquet will be given at A. I. U. hall for the benefit of the uniform rank and it no doubt will be largely attended.

Every delegate who came to Newark for the convention speaks in terms of commendation of the treatment he has received at the hands of our people, while the members of both places had most active workers. When the vote was taken and the ballots counted, however, it was found that the majority of the delegates had voted in favor of holding the grand lodge at Dayton. The meeting will be held in July of next year, about the same time this convention was held.

New Officers Elected.

At Thursday afternoon's session the following officers were elected to the ensuing year.

Grand Chancellor—Rev. E. L. Gilliam of Columbus re-elected.

Grand Vice Chancellor—W. L. Anderson of Cincinnati re-elected.

Prelate—W. L. Kennedy of Zanesville.

K. of R. and S.—W. A. Burke of Columbus re-elected for the fourth term.

G. M. of E.—H. M. Higgins of Cincinnati re-elected.

G. M. at A.—J. A. Good of East Liverpool.

Grand Medical Registrar—W. C. Gordon of Springfield.

Grand Lecturer—Harry T. Elliott of Dayton; re-elected.

Grand Inner Guard—C. Scurvy of Xenia.

Grand Outer Guard—M. F. Clark of Ironton.

Grand Lodge Attorney—M. H. Jones of Dayton.

Endowment Board—Wm. See of Gallipolis, John Male of Columbus.

Supreme Representatives—William Ferguson of Columbus; S. T. Sneed of Cincinnati.

Grand Marshal—Major Morris of Dayton.

The committee on law and supervision made its final report as to the approval or disapproval of new laws introduced.

The report of the grand keeper of records and seal was made, after which the auditing committee made its report.

The committee on state of order made its report, showing the entire grand jurisdiction to be in most excellent shape and each department forging ahead with rapid strides.

the local lodge fairly outdid themselves in their efforts to treat the guests with royal fraternal hospitality.

Newark has surely done itself proud in the entertainment of the visitors. Many of the business houses around the square were decorated for the occasion during all the week, while on Thursday many additional decorations were to be seen. One very commendable feature in connection with the convention is the fact that all did it in their power to make the stranger within our gates feel perfectly at home.

Wednesday Afternoon.

The grand lodge opened Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with Grand Chancellor Gilliam presiding, and the report of grand lodge officers was resumed.

The committee on credentials made its final report, showing there were 150 votes in the convention.

The reports of the other committees consumed a considerable portion of the afternoon session.

The report of Brigadier General C. C. Caldwell of Columbus was heard in reference to the uniform rank of the order. General Caldwell has seen much military service and is a man well versed in military tactics. For a long time he served in company B, Ninth O. N. G., and also served as First Lieutenant of the 48th U. S. V. I. for two years in the Philippine Islands. He was recently elected captain of Company B of the Ninth regiment, O. N. G., at Columbus. His report showed that there were 25 companies of the uniform rank, with a membership of 625.

During the afternoon session a committee of ladies from the Grand Court of Calanthie, which has been holding its session in the Opera House building, visited the grand lodge, during which time the work of the grand lodge was suspended.

The committee on necrology reported, reading a memorial in honor of the deceased brothers.

The committee on law and supervision made its report, but before it could finish an adjournment was had.

One of the most enjoyable events in connection with the meeting in our city of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, was the grand ball and ball held in A. I. U. hall on Wednesday night. There was a large number of knights and ladies in attendance and the evening was spent most enjoyably in "tripping the light fantastic" to the inspiring strains of Stevens' orchestra.

QUICK RIDDANCE TO CORNS AND CALLOUSES

(By Flossie Bly.)

Nearly everybody who wears shoes has corns and callouses. To secure some relief, all sorts of remedies are applied. Of the limitless number of preparations, however, I know of but one worthy of recommendation. I refer to "Bingo," recently put on the market in this country, and which is now to be had at any drug store at 25 cents a bottle.

The use of "Bingo" does away with cutting and digging with razors and other tools, and the attendant dangers from drawing blood, infection, etc. It doesn't make the healthy flesh raw and inflamed. It doesn't stick to hosiery. Apply it to an aching corn or burn and bingo! the pain stops at once. It shrivels up the hardened, deadened skin so you can remove it entirely without the least trouble. It works the same way on warts, too.—Woman's Realm.

The suggestion by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, that every employee try to save 10 cents a day for the company, is not only sensible, but practical. It is thoughtless in most cases, but there is so much waste in small ways these times that the total is frightful to contemplate.

According to the reports just made out the business on many of the railroads for the month of June did not measure up to that of the month of May. However, the business was larger than for the same month last year and there are prospects for a big business during the present month. The movement of grain is expected to bring a great deal of business to the railroads within the next few weeks.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe has ordered 80 locomotives from the Baldwin Locomotive Works, representing an expenditure of $1,500,000 for equipment.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad, a subsidiary of the Atlantic Coast line, has ordered 1,000 tons of structural steel from the American Bridge company.

Lines eastbound from Chicago have maintained their lead over a year ago in aggregate volume of tonnage shipped, in spite of rail and lake competition.

INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET

Admitted to be the most comprehensive in the annals of aviation, the program for the International Aviation Meet to be held in Grant Park Chicago, August 12-20, has been received with applause by every aviator and aeronautical association in this country and Europe.

Covering a division of $50,000 in prize money, the largest ever offered, the diversity of events is such that every day of the meet will be filled with thrills from the time of the start of the first event, until the last feature of the day has been completed.

Every known feature of aviation will be presented and the contest committee is even arranging for still more events in order that nothing ever accomplished by birdmen shall be omitted.

Monoplanes and biplanes will race in various events in separate classes and other events will be open to both types. Likewise there will be altitude flights arranged in the same manner, weight carrying, quick starting, quick climbing, alighting in a given space, bomb throwing and cross water races.

This last item will bring into play a especially exciting and interesting feature. The swiftest motor boats in the country will be at the lakeside edge of the course and when the races begin will speed through the water after the aviators.

Each day will see the division of thousands of dollars of prize money and in addition to this various organizations and individuals have offered cups and trophies to the winners of certain events.

H. H. Latham, the chairman of the athletic committee of the Chicago Athletic Association, has announced that the association will present a magnificent cup, said to be valued at $2,500, to the aviator who breaks the world's altitude record, to become his personal property.

In the event of the record not being broken, the cup will go to the aviator scoring the highest altitude at the meet, and shall remain in his possession until the record is broken, when it will go to the birdman accomplishing that feat.

Likewise Manager W. S. Shafer of the Auditorium Hotel will present a cup to the aviator breaking the world's record for twenty miles, in the event of the record not being broken, the cup shall be governed by the same conditions applying to that of the Athletic Association.

Whatever the proceeds may be, after expenses are paid, will be devoted to the United Charities of Chicago, thereby eliminating the question of financial gain for any individual.

Signed contracts received from Harry N. Atwood, who recently made several spectacular flights in and around New York; James V. Martin, the Harvard aviator, and Howard Le Van, the boy aviator, bring the total number thus far under contract to seventeen, with an equal number yet to come.

One famous American aviator is working on a piece of apparatus, which if successful will have tremendous bearing upon the use of aeroplanes on warships.

He proposes to have a monster trap on the field in which shall be an aeroplane, and when the time arrives for the first event, President Taft is the one who will press an electric button, either in Washington or Chicago, hurling the aeroplane in the air and giving it its initial velocity.

CENTRAL OHIO SOIL GOOD FOR BEET GROWING

That central Ohio is an excellent beet-growing section is the belief of a representative of one of the largest beet sugar companies in the country, who made a trip of inspection Sunday, with officials of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce to the various experimental farms within a radius of 50 miles of Columbus.

The inspection jaunt was made in an automobile. More than 150 miles were covered and 20 beet plots, conducted under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce, were visited.

"The soil is right and many of the plants we saw are as good as those I have seen in Michigan, the great beet-growing country," said the sugar beet expert. "However, the weather has been against the beet crop this year, especially here in central Ohio, where the weather has been unusually dry. Most of the seeds were put in the ground early in May, but on account of lack of rain they did not come up until in June. Those who have been caring for the experiment stations are not thoroughly up on the methods of raising beets and some of the plants were neglected."

"But considering conditions, I am much pleased with the possibilities of central Ohio as beet-growing territory."

The Proof Is In Newark, Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Newark citizen is in itself strong proof for Newark people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Newark citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

C. W. Manville, 50 N. Fourth St., Newark, O., says: "My former public statements regarding Doan's Kidney Pills still hold good. Three years ago I suffered from pains and lameness through the small of my back and was caused annoyance by a kidney weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills proved their superiority by restoring me to good health and correcting every symptom of kidney complaint after other remedies had failed. My cure has been a permanent one."

BLOODY STRUGGLE IS PREDICTED

London, July 20.—Despite the assurance of the Persian government that it can frustrate the plans of Mohammed Ali, former shah, to regain the throne, it was today predicted in English government circles that a long, bloody struggle is about to begin in Persia. The former shah is said to be assured of 20,000 followers and is now near Astrabad. Against this force the government has about 50,000 troops, but their loyalty is open to grave doubt.

From Russian sources it was learned today that the deposed shah embarked at Baku under bogus passports and in disguise, traveling in the steerage with a few followers. The German press intimates that it may really not be the former shah, but an impostor commissioned from Russia and England to create disorder.

OUTING FOR THE CHILDREN AND MOTHERS

While many who are fortunate enough to be able to afford it are enjoying a vacation at seaside or other summer resort away from the city's heat and the suffering resulting therefrom, there are those who will not be able to do so. For these Captain Martin of the Salvation Army is arranging at least one day's outing and good time. Arrangements are under way whereby the Army will give an outing to some 200 poor children and mothers about the middle of August. They will be taken to a shady grove somewhere in the vicinity and enjoy a day of rest and recreation and be provided with a lunch and everything to make the day one of real recreation free from care and worry on the part of the mothers and full of fun for the children.

Captain Martin and his assistants are soliciting the help and co-operation of the good people of Newark in this undertaking, both in securing the most worthy and needy who are to receive the outing and in providing for them the best time of their lives along this line. Any information will be gladly received as to recipients of the benefit. Will the people of Newark please take care to see that nothing is given to anyone for this cause who has not authority in writing from Captain V. P. Martin, who is the officer in charge of the Army work in Newark. Address of officer's home is 125 Elmwood avenue, Automatic Phone, 3460.

KNOCKED OUT BY A WOMAN.

EMBEZZLER WHO ESCAPED CAPTURED BY CONVICT POSSE

Reno, Nev., July 20.—When Jim Antone, embezzler, escaped from the road gang of convicts near Carson yesterday afternoon, W. A. Wilson, serving 20 years for murder; A. B. Nelson, serving eight years for horse stealing, and James Lyle, serving 10 years for manslaughter, headed a posse and captured him in the mountains.

Antone, when captured, was soundly abused by the murderers, horse-thieves and burglars for breaking his word of honor given to Warden Baker not to escape.

Convicts swore a month ago that they would capture the next man who escaped.

DETECTIVE AGENCY CLAIMS CONSPIRACY

Erie, Pa., July 20.—That a general conspiracy existed to discredit his agency will be charged in the defense of Gilbert Perkins and his associate of the Perkins Detective Agency, on trial here for sending blackmail letters through the mail to Millionaire Strong of this city. The fact that government detectives when they arrested Perkins in Indianapolis found pieces of paper that fitted into the letters received by Strong will be admitted, but it will be argued that they were "planted" there by rival detectives. The government is expected to complete its case against the detectives today.
